

Being a frequent business flyer I am opposed to the idea of permitting cell phone usage on commercial airline flights. The use of cell phones at the gate today is extremely annoying. I have experienced passenger anger and high tension because of the use. Having this occur throughout the flight would be terribly frustrating and have the potential for in-flight altercations.